ADJOURNMENT IN EXECUTIVE SESSION

Pursuant to an order previously entered this day, Mr. Johnson moved that the Senate stand in adjournment in executive session until 10 o'clock noon Tuesday, June 18, 1957.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 6 o'clock and 26 minutes p. m.) the Senate adjourned.

June 18, the Senate met in open executive session at 12 o'clock noon, with the Vice President in the chair.

The Senate resumed consideration of the Statute of the International Atomic Energy Agency, as in Committee of the Whole.

The treaty, being in the Committee of the Whole, was open to amendment.

Pending debate,

Mr. Hickenlooper addressed the Senate at length.

Mr. Bush addressed the Senate briefly and obtained permission to have a statement prepared by himself with respect to the pending treaty.

Mr. Bricker addressed the Senate at length and, during his remarks, asked and obtained permission to have printed in the Congressional Record following his remarks an article entitled "Conferring on the Atomic Danger," by C. L. Sulzberger.

Mr. Green addressed the Senate at length and, during the course of his remarks, asked and obtained leave to have printed in the Congressional Record, as a part of his remarks, certain letters, articles, and appended material received by all members of the Committee.

No amendment being offered to the treaty in the Committee of the Whole, the treaty was reported to the Senate.

The resolution advising and consenting to the ratification of the treaty, which had been recommended by the Committee, and which contained an interpretation and an understanding reading to the language of the proposed resolution and not to the text of the treaty, was submitted and read as follows:

The question was on agreeing to the interpretation and understanding noted.

Pending debate,

Mr. Bricker offered the following amendment to the interpretation and understanding contained in the language of the resolution of advice and consent submitted by the Committee:

"Strike out the word 'and' immediately before '(2)'; and strike out the period at the end of the resolution of ratification, insert in lieu of a comma, and add the following language: '(3) and that the United States shall not make special fissionable materials available to the International Atomic Energy Agency except to such extent, and in accordance with such terms and conditions, as may hereafter be authorized or prescribed by act or joint resolution of the Congress.'"

The question occurred on agreeing to Mr. Bricker's amendment to the Committee amendment to the resolution or ratification.

Pending debate,

Mr. Bricker addressed the Senate, concluding with the following statement:

"In that way the paragraph becomes a part of the interpretation and understanding instead of being a reservation in specific terms."

On this question Mr. Bricker demanded the yeas and nays which resulted in 31 Senators voting in the affirmative and 56 Senators voting in the negative.

Mr. Bricker's amendment was rejected.

Mr. Johnson of Texas moved for reconsideration of the vote on Mr. Bricker's amendment.

Mr. Knowland moved to lay on the table Mr. Johnson's motion to reconsider.

The motion was agreed to.

The question now occurred on agreeing to the Committee's amendment (an interpretation and an understanding), and was agreed to.

The Senate proceeded to consider the resolution of ratification as modified by the Committee amendment—which read as follows:

"Resolved (two-thirds of the Senators present concurring therein), That the Senate advise and consent to the ratification of Executive I, Eighty-fifth Congress, first session, a certified copy of the Statute of the International Atomic Energy Agency, which was open for signature at the United Nations Headquarters in New York for three months, from October 26, 1956, to January 24, 1957, and was signed in behalf of the United States of America and by seventy-nine other nations, subject to the interpretation and understanding, which is hereby made a part and condition of the resolution of ratification, that (1) any amendment to the statute shall be submitted to the Senate for its advice and consent, as in the case of the statute itself, and (2) the United States will not remain a member of the Agency in the event of an amendment to the statute being adopted to which the Senate by a formal vote shall refuse its advice and consent."

On this question the yeas and nays were ordered, the roll was called, resulting in 67 yeas and 19 nays.
